User Representative

- Important role making decisions for the partner User at the Execution level

- Is in fact a Product Owner and no longer a simple specialist

- Can decide to change the scope of the project without a Change Request or decision by the Sponsor

- Replaces the Business Process Owner and the Application Owner

- Is appointed by the Sponsor, but does not sign the Execution Order

Sponsor and Project Manager

- Are responsible for the success, resp. for the management of the project

- Commit themselves by signing the Project Execution Order

- How can the Sponsor assume its responsibility without releasing the Execution?

- How can the project manager ensure the management if the user representative decides on priorities, changes, etc.?

Development Team

- The development team organizes itself
- It can have a lead, a representative, or not
- What is the role of a sub-project manager when there are development teams?
